Te Whare Pukapuka me te Pūtahi Āwhina o Ōtaki is Ōtaki's Library and Service Centre. It's an integral part of a dynamic bicultural town. The Ōtaki Māori Land Court Minute Books containing judges' notes on court sittings held between 1865-1910 are kept here for viewing.

Paekākāriki Library is a pop-up library which sets up three times a week in the Paekākāriki Tennis Club rooms. It serves a small seaside community of avid readers.

Waikanae is a thriving community with a large population of retirees and a growing number of commuters and young families who are keen library-goers. The new community hub will not only meet the needs of today's library users, but will be flexible to meet the future demands of the Waikanae community.

Te Whare Whakamatou o Paraparaumu (Paraparaumu Library) serves the local community and acts as a base for our libraries in Ōtaki, Waikanae and Paekākāriki. It is the hub for developing our library and heritage collections and community programmes and advancing digital library facilities. It will soon also have a 'Maker Space' – an area where library users can use digital and machine-based tools. It has meeting spaces and a community gallery where local arts, crafts and heritage items are exhibited.
