

Glossary

| Term                                     | Definition                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Bar                               | A generic term used to refer to all pubs, taverns, hotels, bars, and nightclubs where alcohol can be purchased and served on site. These are places where the sale of alcohol, rather than food, is the primary purpose of the premises.                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Bottle store                      | A shop or part of a hotel where alcohol is sold in unopened containers for take away and consumption off site (for example Big Barrel, Super Liquor).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Cafe                              | A premises where the sale of food, rather than alcohol, is the primary purpose of the premises.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Club-licence                      | A club-licence can be held by a group which does not operate for financial gain and has a legal identity (for example, RSAs, sports clubs, cosmopolitan clubs, voluntary groups, or workingman's club).                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Community facilities              | A public place where community members gather for recreational, educational, artistic, social, or cultural activities (for example, schools, health clinics, marae, neighbourhood centres, libraries, sports centres, parks, and places of worship) – where attendees may be sensitive to exposure to alcohol. The activities can be organised, such as amateur sports leagues, or casual, such as children visiting a playground. |
| District Licensing Committee      | A District Licensing Committee (DLC) determines applications for new renewals and renewed alcohol licences, special licences, temporary authority orders, managers' certificates and any other duties as set out in the Sale and Supply of Alcohol Act 2012.                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Health or rehabilitation services | Publicly funded for medical services (like health care centres, General Practitioners, Medical specialists, Plunket, mental health providers) or alcohol recovery services (like residential rehabilitation programmes).                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Grocery store                     | Small convenience shops (for example, a Four Square or Supervalu) where the principal business is the sale of food products (excluding ready-to-eat or snack food) but may also sell other household items.                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Licence Condition                 | Licence Conditions are requirements that licensees must meet when selling alcohol. Conditions can be things such as hours of opening, the kinds of beverages able to be sold, the number of servings that could be sold to one person, the availability of food, and the provision of free water.                                                                                                                                  |
| Licensed premises                 | A place for which a licence to sell alcohol to the public is held. This could be either an on-licence (like a bar, restaurant, or café, and including BYO service), and off-licence (like a supermarket or bottle store), a club-licence (like an RSA or sports club) or a special-licence (for activities like a festival, sports event, or party).                                                   |
| Local Alcohol Policy              | A policy on the licensing regime for the sale, supply, and/or consumption of alcohol in the district of a territorial authority.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Off-licence                       | Places that have a permit to sell alcohol for consumption off the premises (eg, supermarkets and liquor stores).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| One-way door restriction          | A restriction that prevents people from entering or re-entering an on-licence (like a bar) after a certain time, but those already inside can stay until closing time. For example, a bar with 3am closing time but a 1am one-way door restriction, cannot allow anyone to enter or return to the bar after 1am.                                                                                                                   |
| On-licence                        | Places that have a permit for the sale and supply of alcohol for consumption on the premises (eg, bars, restaurants, and cafes are on-licences).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Pre-mixed RTDs                    | Packaged pre-mixed beverages (alcohol mixed with fruit juices or soft drinks) that are sold ready for consumption. Also sometimes called 'alcopops'.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Restaurant                        | A premises where the sale of food, rather than alcohol, is the primary purpose of the premises.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Special licence                   | A licence is given to sell alcohol for special events and occasions (for example, a food and wine festival or a wedding).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Social or Sports Club             | A social-group or sports-based club (like a Cosmopolitan Club, or a boating or rugby club) providing socialisation, food and beverages for members/players and guests.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Supermarket                       | A large self-service shop selling a wide variety of foods, beverages, and household goods, which is organised into product sections (for example. Countdown, Pak'n'Save).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Trading hours                     | The hours in which a company is open for business. This term can be used to refer to the 'maximum' trading hours for an alcohol licence and the 'actual' trading hours for a licensed premises.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |